

Haunted Ground by Heavy Capt.

haunted ground snapping tendons in my feet table rapping protecting the ghost whose chosen me squirring on a golden egg in the garbage, in the sun waiting for my wings bite my hand, oh love remind me of my dreams I'm out here with bloody hands panning for fool's gold in the streams tied a thread to your ship as you sailed away every bone in your body replaced are you still the same?
the water is breathing
it will be eating you soon
if the winds you cannot tame
what a shame
what a shame
